HINTS TO THE KNIGHTS OF TEMPERANCE.—The Genius of Temperance is apt to appear to the dram drinker in one of two forms—either that of the religious zealot, who opens the door of the bright warm bar-room on a winter evening, looks gloomily in, and says, tersely, "You sha'n't drink." These remarks are addressed to poor people whose homes are not inviting. What alternative is offered to them? If you send them out of the bar room for fear of—where shall they go? If you take them into the street, will they find it pleasant than the room from which they are expelled? Now, is it not wise for those who by liquor laws are trying to send the bar room into a dark damp cellar, and to make it disagreeable in every way, to provide in its place a resort which shall be agreeable in every way? If a very large part of the money which is expended for lectures and papers and tracts upon the evils of dram-drinking were devoted to maintaining resorts pleasant and more attractive than the corner grocery and the brilliant bar room, the good cause would certainly prosper no less than now. That would be putting the wits of temperance men against the dram interest, as the striped pig was the wit of the dram interest against temperance. It would be pushing home the victory won by sending the bar down cellar, because for every forlorn loiterer whose home is but a cold, dark desolate chamber it would provide a cheerful and attractive parlor, with games, papers, pipes, and innocent drinks.

This would be legitimately fighting the devil with his own weapons. It would be a kind of "moral suasion" which the severest advocate of severe laws could not deprecate. It would be the introduction of a kindly wisdom into a movement which often seems cold as the water it reveres. The Genius of Drams would be balked and bewildered by an attack which borrowed its tactics from his own. Undoubtedly it would take money and time and trouble. But a community which is not ready to pay that price for temperance is not ready to buy. Preaching the wickedness of dram-drinking, and enforcing prohibition even at the point of the bayonet, will not be so efficient an assault as turning the flank of the enemy by making other resorts for recreation cheaper and pleasanter than dram-shops.—Harper's Magazine for July.

BRIDGEPORT, CONN., June 8.—The fire which last night destroyed the four and a half story manufactory of Glover, Sanford & Son in Bridgeport was first discovered about 11:20 by the watchman of the carriage shop, nearly opposite. The top floor was packed full of wool, which burned rapidly, and for nearly an hour made the attic one solid mass of flames. At 12 o'clock, while volunteers were engaged in removing goods from the building, the back and then the front walls fell out, leaving the two highest walls unsupported. One adjoining the office leaned outward, and as a shriek went up from the hundreds of spectators, it fell upon the roof of the office, crushing through to the basement, and burying those who were engaged in rescuing the effects. The eleven bodies removed were fearfully crushed and burned. Some 15,000 hats, nearly ready for shipment, were burned, and 250 hands are thrown out of employment.

Oh, no, a man don't like to have his name in print! It never flatters his vanity at all! The other day, while a man from Norwalk was doing up some Commercial's reporter said:

"Ah, my friend, we put your name in print, did we?"

Then the Norwalker looked up, and assumed an important, cynical air as he said:

"My name in print! Humph. I'd be a fool to save a paper because my name appeared in it. If I saved all the papers that had my name in them, I would have enough to fill a barn. There was an article in the paper which pleased me and I thought it would interest some of my friends. That's what I was marking those papers for, if you are curious to know, sir. I don't notice whether or not you had put my name in the paper, but if you have done so I do not thank you for it. I'm tired of this being published so much."

That's what Mr. Jamison, of Norwalk, said, but when he stepped aside a moment to talk with a friend the reporter looked at the papers and marked the article which the stranger had marked. It was very brief, and was as follows:

"Horace Jamison, of Norwalk, is at the Burnett House."—Oh, vanity! thy name is vain."—[Toledo Commercial.]

PERUVIAN SYRUP.
From a Well-known Druggist.
WEST STOCKBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 9, 1873.
SETH W. FOWLE & SONS:
Gents—About five years ago my wife was suffering considerably from female difficulties, and was recommended by Dr. Richardson of Essex Co., N. Y., to try the Peruvian Syrup, which she did, and derived so much benefit from it that she kept on with it, and in a short time was as well as ever. I have kept the Syrup for sale since I commenced business, and have had more confidence in recommending it (knowing what it had done in my family) than any other preparation on my shelves. Hoping it may always be found in market, I am,
Your ob't servant,

PERUVIAN SYRUP.
A Case of Thirty Years' Standing.
EAST AUBURN, N. Y., May 22, 1872.
Messrs. SETH W. FOWLE & SONS:
Gentlemen—I was troubled with dyspepsia for thirty years, and tried several medicines advertised for the cure of this distressing complaint, without deriving any benefit from them. About a year ago I commenced taking the Peruvian Syrup, and after using altogether twelve bottles I find myself entirely cured. I consider my case one of the worst I ever heard of, and I take great pleasure in recommending the Peruvian Syrup to all dyspeptics, believing that it will be sure to cure them.
Yours respectfully,
J. T. BROWN.

PERUVIAN SYRUP.
From the Troy Daily Times.
Peruvian Syrup is a standard remedy for building up and renewing broken-down or nervous constitutions. For dyspepsia, debility, liver complaint, kidney and bladder diseases, or any of the many irregularities of the various organs of the human frame, it is a sovereign remedy. It is a tonic without alcohol. This medicine is too well known already to require any commendation from me. It is only necessary for us to say to those who have never given it a trial, that it will accomplish all that is claimed for it. Now is the time to tone up the system, before the hot months of summer fairly set in.
CAUTION.—Be sure you get the "PERUVIAN SYRUP."
A 32-page pamphlet, containing a treatise on Iron as a medical agent, and other valuable papers, testimonials from distinguished physicians, clergymen and others, will be sent free to any address. SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Proprietors, 86 Harrison Avenue, Boston. Sold by druggists generally.

LAWSON'S CURATIVE

As the Beacon Light
Is to the mariner on the stormy coast so is
LAWSON'S CURATIVE
to the distressed and suffering subject of Rheumatism or Neuralgia!

We cannot be too grateful for the discovery of any remedy which will alleviate the sufferings of humanity, not only in the pangs of pain which the patient alone suffers, but in the distress which it entails upon others. Most every sufferer from his own personal experience is aware that the ordinary methods of treating Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica and kindred diseases by internal medicine, is of no avail, and so fast is this impression gaining hold upon intelligent patients that they demand a more potent remedy. The discovery of LAWSON'S CURATIVE was a priceless boon to thousands who have been cured, and the thousands who are now being relieved of their terrible agonies bear willing testimony to its virtues.

Here we have a CURATIVE agent which though applied externally exerts a powerful and beneficent influence on the whole nerve system—a remedy of indisputable efficacy—seldom failing to afford prompt relief in cases of acute or chronic pains in the nerves or muscles.
For every kind of Rheumatism, for Neuralgia in every form, for nervous or Sick Headache, for Nervousness, for Lame Back or Side, for Erysipelas, for Diphtheria and Sore Throat, for Chilblains, for Sprains Bruises, Cuts, Wounds, for Burns and Scalds, for Toothache in fact for all Pains, Inflammations and Swellings no remedy is known which possesses the remarkable healing and soothing qualities, which is so universal in its character and scope or so simple and safe in its application. For these reasons LAWSON'S CURATIVE should have a place in every family. It will there prove its value in innumerable cases to prevent lingering diseases and should be kept at hand ready for instant use.
Sold by all Druggists.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.
For all the purposes of a Family Physic, and for curing Constipation, Jaundice, Indigestion, Puff Swelling, Bloating, Headache, Erysipelas, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Dropsy, Tumors, Worms, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, for Purifying the Blood,

Are the most effective and congenial purgative ever discovered. They are mild, but effectual in their operation, moving the bowels surely and without pain. Although gentle in their operation, they are still the most thorough and searching cathartic medicine that can be employed; cleansing the stomach and bowels, and even the blood. In small doses of one pill a day, they stimulate the digestive organs and promote vigorous health.

AYER'S PILLS have been known for more than a quarter of a century, and have obtained a world-wide reputation for their virtues. They correct diseased action in the several assimilative organs of the body, and are so composed that obstructions within their range can rarely withstand or evade them. Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, the safest and best physic for children. By their aperient action they gripe much less than the common purgatives, and never give pain when the bowels are not inflamed. They reach the vital fountains of the blood, and strengthen the system by freeing it from the elements of weakness.

Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates, containing neither calomel nor any deleterious drug, these Pills may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar-coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take; while being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.
